600-626 Buchanan St. is located on two 20' x 62' lots on the northeast corner of Buchanan and Fell Streets. Built ca. 1885, 600-626 Buchanan St is a 3-story, wood frame, multiple family building containing 6 flats designed in the Stick/Eastlake style. The T-plan building, clad in drop siding, sits on a reinforced concrete, perimeter foundation and is capped by a flat roof. The primary façade faces west toward Buchanan St. and is 4 bays wide. The ground story features two straight flights of wood steps with square balustrades leading to two recessed entry porches on the first story. There are two unit entrances with wood doors set under the stairs, accessed from street level via concrete steps. The left and right bays of the ground story feature semi-hexagonal bay windows with double-hung, wood sash and engaged columns. The excavated area around the ground story is lined with decorative iron fencing. The first story features two main entrances in the center bays, set in recesses with arched transoms framed by paneled pilasters and door hoods with scroll-sawn brackets, and scroll sawn frieze panels with dentils. The paneled recesses shelter two entrances fitted with paneled or glazed and paneled wood doors with transoms. The end bays contain semi-hexagonal bay windows with arched, double-hung, wood sash; Corinthian colonnette (continued)

P3a. Description, continued:

surrounds; scroll sawn frieze panels; dentil cornices; and pent hipped roofs. The center bays of the second story features flush double-hung, arched wood windows with shouldered arch surrounds capped by arched pediments. Each end bay of each story contains a chamfered bay window similar to those on the first story. The façade has paneled corner boards and paneled vertical bands dividing the bays. A secondary elevation is oriented south toward Fell Street and is 4 bays wide. The elevation features a semi-hexagonal bay window in the second bay identical to those on the façade. The two end bays are a single story in height; the third bay features a single, double-hung wood window, while the fourth bay has an enclosed stairway leading from the second story of a full-height ell. Both elevations terminate at the second story level with a paneled frieze, bracketed cornice, and hipped pent roof clad in standing seam metal roofing. The building appears to be in good condition. 600-626 Buchanan Street is similar to the two adjacent properties to the south at 610-614 and 618-620 Buchanan Street.
