
Join us for a student-led History Night exploring the contributions of the Latinx community to San Francisco's political, social, and cultural life. San Francisco State University students will share their work exploring the community's role in organizing, politics, culture and art. We invite you take part in this interactive event!

Everyone is welcome! This event is free, and light refreshments will be provided.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM: Student-led presentations and interactive stations. SF Planning will share information about the SF Cultural Heritage program and community resources.
