Tenderloin Community Action Plan Participatory Budgeting Process

Thank you for participating! Please see a list of the proposed projects and programs below for you to review and understanding before voting.

What is the Tenderloin Community Action Plan?

The Tenderloin Community Action Plan (TCAP) is a neighborhood-driven collaboration between residents, community organizations, businesses, and City agencies that identifies current needs for the neighborhood's diverse population, develops a collective vision for Tenderloin's future, then develops an action plan for top priorities identified by the community. The TCAP offers solutions for housing and homelessness, health and wellness, neighborhood empowerment, arts and culture, safety and street conditions, and economic resilience.

What is the Participatory Budgeting Process?

The Planning Department is allocating $3.5 million to begin bringing to life projects and programs which fall under the TCAP. The participatory budgeting process requested projects from Tenderloin residents and community-serving organizations, collaboratively created criteria to evaluate projects and finalized a list of projects based on criteria. Tenderloin residents 12 and older will vote on preferred projects to be funded June 2023-June 2025. Projects fall into impact area categories:

1. Community Celebration
2. Livability – Public Space Activation
3. Community Wellness
4. Basic Life Needs
5. Public Safety – Ambassadors
6. Economic Mobility

Voting Information, Schedule + Locations

How did we select this list of projects?

Tenderloin residents and organizations participated in a short series of workshops, helping to create criteria for the evaluation of projects submitted to the Participatory Budgeting process. The Planning Department applied the criteria to all submitted projects. The projects for voting met the following criteria co-created by the Planning Department and the community:

1. Addresses a neighborhood need, indicated in the draft TCAP and prior community surveys. If an existing project or program, it must expand on its current level of service or potentially result in loss of critical services in the neighborhood without the funding.
2. Serves an equity population – children, seniors, people of color (Black, American Indian, Latino/x/e, Asian Pacific Islander, Middle Eastern/Arab, and other communities of color), youth, immigrants, houseless residents, people on fixed incomes, people living with disabilities
3. Is feasible - the project must be managed with adequate staff capacity, have community support, have a clear vision and scope, tasks, and items that will be delivered.
4. Builds community capacity – the project should increase local resources for the future, OR is innovative, collaborative, or a celebration of the Tenderloin

Next Steps

How will Projects and Programs move forward after the vote?

The final projects to be awarded and the size of the grant will be determined by the following factors:

- Participatory Budgeting voting results.
- Further evaluation of project feasibility to ensure project implementation within the timeframe of the grant cycle. Feasibility criteria include clear scope and deliverables, staff capacity, accountability measurements, and community support.
- Detailed evaluation of proposed budget based on project deliverables and available funding from other sources.

Proposals that will move forward may need to clarify scope and deliverables further in order to ensure community accountability. Proposals that do not receive funding at this stage may be considered in future phases of the Tenderloin Community Action Plan.

Public Safety – Ambassadors

1. Park Stewardship

Description
Continue to provide consistent presence and care at three Tenderloin public parks: Boeddeker Park, Macauley Park and Turk-Hyde Mini Park to make sure parks remain clean, safe, and accessible to everyone. Stewards who are present at and care for parks can make them safer for Tenderloin residents. Park stewards also act as resources for community building and provide park users with information and resources. TLCBD Parks Network stewards Boeddeker Park, Sergeant Macaulay Park, and Turk-Hyde Mini Park and provide daily programming and weekly activities, 7 days a week/365 days a year.
How funding would support this existing program?
While funded during emergency initiatives, as a critical need for public safety of the neighborhood, there is currently no funding allocated to continue the Park Stewardship program. This funding would allow continuing this important public safety service while the City identifies additional funding and/or other permanent solutions to public safety issues in the neighborhood.

2. Lower Polk: Expanded Ambassador Program and Community Festivals

Description
Support neighborhood safety and street activation by funding eight community ambassadors and seven community festivals with ambassador presence, including Thai New Year in Little Saigon, Asian American Pacific Islander, Tenderloin PRIDE, Larkin Street Flea Market, Tenderloin Pumpkin Patch, Larkin Street Jazz, Tenderloin Art. Ambassador duties include cleaning sidewalks and parking lanes, connecting our unhoused and vulnerable neighbors to services, preventing open air drug use, and drug dealing. Festivals are operated by ambassadors, provide play areas set aside for children, free food, safe spaces with outdoor activities.
How funding would support this existing program?
While funded during emergency initiatives, as a critical need for public safety of the neighborhood, there is a funding gap due to changes in City funding priorities and there is limited funding allocated to continue this program at full capacity. This funding would allow continuing this important public safety and community event service while the City identifies additional funding and/or other permanent solutions to public safety issues in the neighborhood.

3. Safe Passage Ambassadors

Description
Expand the Safe Passage Ambassadors Program to increase geographic coverage beyond Turk Street, increase corner captains’ evening and late afternoon hours, and coordinated escorts to support children, seniors, and people with disabilities along the Safe Passage Route and at special events. The program escorts average 420 children and 265 seniors daily and many other residents. The project creates a safe pathway through the neighborhood that helps detour negative activity and empowers children and other vulnerable residents to reclaim the streets they live, work, and walk through each day. Created by and for community, Safe Passage was created over a decade ago by mothers who worried about their children getting to and from school safely. It has now expanded to include senior routes. Additionally, the current 21 Corner Captains (safety ambassadors) ensure pedestrian safety and detour negative behavior such as drug-dealing, drug-use, mental crisis, and other conditions impeding safety along Safe Passage routes.
How funding would support this existing program?
While funded during emergency initiatives, as a critical need for public safety of the neighborhood, there is currently not enough funding allocated to continue or expand this program due to changing City funding priorities. This funding would allow continuing and expanding this important public safety service, avoid staff layoffs, reduced service hours, and a potential decrease in safety for children and seniors. This funding will provide time to identify additional funding and/or other permanent funding solution is identified to public safety issues in the neighborhood.

4. Nights & Weekends Safety Navigators

Description
A new ambassador service to operate during the evenings and weekends, hiring safety navigators who have been offering these services during other times. The ambassadors support individuals with mental health and substance abuse issues, especially as the Tenderloin Center is closing. This program will operate 7 days per week and will make streets safer late at night with resources, positivity, and case management support will assist with on-the-spot emergencies. For the past 3 years, our Ambassador Program has extended from Code Tenderloin Calming Programs (6 ambassadors) to Care Team, (34 Ambassadors), adding a mobile Vaccination Team (8 Ambassadors- currently) and Tenderloin Linkage Center (64 Service Navigators- current!!) All the roles have similar core community duties and have prepared us for this Night Safety Navigator in which we have not delivered services yet.

5. Safe Passage Path Demonstration

Description
Installation of a decorative strip on the sidewalk in the 200 block of Turk Street to help visualize the Safe Passage Route, a neighborhood walking route supported by ambassadors. The project creates a safe pathway through the neighborhood that detours from negative activity and empowers children and other vulnerable residents to reclaim the streets they live, work, and walk through each day. This installation is the first step of a larger route which covers multiple blocks in the Tenderloin and guarantees access for vulnerable population to critical services including food pantries, parks, community centers, schools, senior services, and other important resources to the Tenderloin community. The larger route would be completed in the next few years depending on additional funding.

6. Dodge Alley Community Space

Description
Make Dodge Alley a community space for everyone to use by installing a decorative gate and adding other physical improvements to the street such as plants and seating. These improvements will allow residents and community groups to continue hosting block parties and other activities and at the same time 1) improve public safety, 2) increase access to open space for Tenderloin residents and 3) celebrate the neighborhood. The alley has become a public community space once a month for the last four months with over 100 people coming to each event to enjoy music, eat food, play games, and socialize with neighbors.

7. Tenderloin Community School Elm Alley Safe Kids Space

Description
Transform Elm Alley, a small street by the Tenderloin Community School, into a Playstreet with a swing gate for street closure, street murals and movable games for preschool and elementary students to enjoy during school hours and for families with children to enjoy weeknights and weekends. The project will serve 275-300 TCS Elementary and Preschool students who are low-income children and/or children with unstable housing. Most children live in SROs or small apartments with little to no open play space in their buildings. The Alley could double up as a special community event space during weeknights and weekends. Collaborating organizations include Tenderloin Community School family advocate and principal, Envelope Design, Bay Area Women's and Children's Center, Tenderloin Community Benefit District (TLCBD) and Safe Passage Route, and Civic Center Benefit District.

8. Veterans Alley Mural Project

Description
The Veterans Alley Mural Project will bring 8 murals to Shannon Alley created by military veterans, 12 community workshops hosted by local resident artists, and support for 4 community events (the Tenderloin Flea Market, the Tenderloin Music Festival, the Veterans Alley Block Party, and the Veterans Day Memorial.) Additional items that the project will deliver are Veterans Alley Tours which develop collaboration with 4 local hotels to provide guided tours of Veterans Alley by community members, train and pay residents to lead tours, feature artwork of local Tenderloin artists and residents, create and deliver workshops to teach and train community members and TL artists the legal and fiscal aspects of their art practice. Merchandising opportunities for fixed low-income TL residents and create the opportunity for local artists and community members to sell their art in local business venues.
How funding would support this existing program?

9. Tenderloin Dog Park

Description
A dog park for the Tenderloin, which currently has no permanent dog park.
This project would both offer open space for dogs to run and play and help to create community connection. Dogs are a great support for Tenderloin residents and the lack of green spaces in the Tenderloin makes a dog park a high needed space. The Urban Alchemy Oasis , for example, as a temporary public space has seen about 1,000 dogs visit and enjoy the space since its opening, indicating the need for more spaces like it.

10. Golden Gate Greenway Phase 1: Parklets and Street Events Project

Description
Bring three well-maintained, safe parklets to the 100 block of Golden Gate Avenue including peaceful seating area, a space for community groups to host activities, a reading area for children and a lending library.
Additionally, the block will be closed at specific times to host community events. The three parklets and the street closure are the first step towards the construction of the Golden Gate Greenway- a radical greening of the block and a new community gathering space for the Tenderloin community.

11. Tenderloin Forest Stabilization

Description
Provide consistent care, staffing and ongoing community programs to the Tenderloin National Forest (TNF), an important outdoor shared community green and art space.
In the 1980's the Tenderloin National Forest (TNF) was transformed from a dead-end, garbage filled alley into a beloved safe community space, filled with native plants and trees, a wad and doble hut, handmade seating elements and murals and a clay oven. During COVID, TNF suffered staffing shortages and multiple break-ins: funding to this project would help restore the space as a community sanctuary.

12. Larkin Street Canopy Project

Description
Funding will support businesses and Ambassadors to maintain street trees and 10 parklets installed along Larkin Street. The green cover provided by trees, along with recent outdoor lights and Ambassador program, will help keep existing businesses and attract new businesses to Larkin Street.
This project is the first phase of the larger Larkin Street Canopy project, an effort to add trees and plants in the neighborhood. Residents, business owners, and other stakeholders stated a need for trees and plants in the Tenderloin.

Community Celebration

13. Black History and Culture of the Tenderloin

Description
A series of community events to educate and celebrate contributions of the Black community to the neighborhood. The events will include guided tour and will be promoted to community leaders, business owners, and residents. The intent of the project is to heal the image of the neighborhood and celebrate its beauty. The project will also help small business owners who are still struggling after the Covid pandemic by bringing foot traffic in the neighborhood. These events will employ Tenderloin residents as tour guides.

15. Tenderloin People's Holiday Tree and Lighting Ceremony

Description
This project will fund the fifth and sixth Annual Tenderloin People’s Holiday tree, an ongoing holiday tradition. Every year, this community event brings over 400 attendees to Boeddeker Park including local organizations, City officials and residents. This project has multiple partners who put it on including Tenderloin Neighborhood Development Corporation, Tenderloin Community Benefit District, Hospitality House, YMCA, Friend of Boeddeker Park, Glide, La Cocina, and the Tenderloin Merchants Association. The event is also attended by the Mayor and other elected officials.
How funding would support this existing program?
There is currently no funding allocated to continue this annual program in Boeddeker Park. This funding would allow continuing this important community celebration for the next two years, while the sponsor identifies a sustained funding source.

18. Grace Notes Community Festival 2023

Description
Grace Notes are four Saturday community jazz and arts festivals held in the summer. The community-run event will include performers, local street art, refreshments, and artists will be paid a fair wage.
Turk and Hyde will be blocked off for skating and performances that can be enjoyed by all residents. Local artists will be paid for their work to support the local economy and local street art and resist the force of gentrification. This organization hopes to build a community center with this momentum.
How funding would support this existing program?

19. Delivering Innovation in Supportive Housing (DISH) Food Program

Description

Delivering Innovation in Supportive Housing (DISH) provides supportive housing to about 400 Tenderloin residents who are recovering from long-term homelessness and experiencing chronic health conditions, psychiatric diagnoses, and/or substance use issues.

DISH is partnering with La Cocina to provide free meals, cooked by La Cocina entrepreneurs, delivered directly to DISH residents 5 times a week. This grant would fill a gap in funding for the program while the organization looks for a longer-term funding source. La Cocina is a Tenderloin-based award-winning non-profit kitchen that helps set up small businesses. La Cocina’s goal is to help solve the problem of equity in business ownership, specifically for working class women food entrepreneurs, many of whom are also immigrants.

How funding would support this existing program?

While funded during emergency initiatives, as a critical need for health of low-income residents in supportive hours, there is currently not enough funding allocated to continue or this program. This funding would allow the program to continue until a different funding and/or other permanent funding solution is identified to provide food for 400 residents in supportive housing.

20. Tenderloin Urban Rest and Sleep Center

Description

The Filipino Community Development Corporation will open and operate an Urban Rest and Sleep Center that will provide safe sleeping space for 40-60 people experiencing homelessness in the evening. The Center will also offer social services that connect program participants to permanent housing, jobs, healthcare, and resources (laundry, shower, computer access) during the daytime.

On the ground floor of the Helen Hotel, the Center will focus on providing stability for recently displaced people and helping them enter the workforce. The Center will focus specifically on homelessness because of a significant life change and recurring homeless. The Center hopes to create a system that ends a person's chronic homelessness.

21. Clean Team

Description
Clean team stewards are people hired to care for and provide cleaning of streets for a safer neighborhood.
Clean Team improves street conditions and health and wellbeing of residents and their streets by removing trash, and other hazards from the streets.
How funding would support this existing program?
While funded during emergency initiatives, as a critical need for neighborhood public health and safety, to work in coordination with the City's Public Works Department.
This funding will meet a shortfall in tax assessment dollar funding. Without this funding, staff cuts, service delays, and a decrease in cleanliness will likely occur in the neighborhood. Additional funding is needed to support special service events and cleaning requests for events.

23. Community Housing Education for Tenderloin Arabic-speaking residents

Description
Expand affordable housing information and education program for Arabic residents on how to apply online, prepare for the lease-up process, and learn about tenants' rights with catered language and cultural sensitivity. For the low-income Arabic population, there is a language barrier and limited access to technology. Many require extensive time to understand required documents, bust myths and misinformation on affordable housing systems, and receive technological support. At 249 current households served, BiSHoP is the only organization in the city that has Arabic-speaking Housing Case Managers in the city, and currently does not have the capacity to increase the caseload for this population. Hence, we recognize that community education is very important piece in accessing to affordable housing and navigating its system.
How funding would support this existing program?
There is currently no funding allocated to expand this program.

If this program is not funded for expansion, it will leave both organizations without resources, and needing to rely on volunteer time, to address the access to housing for the Arab population when there is a consistent great need in education.

27. Tenderloin Arabic Mental Health Support Network

Description
--------------------

Addressing the Tenderloin Arabic community’s mental health and addiction challenges with educational workshops, group therapy, and one-on-one sessions in-person and online in Arabic. This program will help reduce the isolation of the Arab community and increase mental stability and wellness among both individuals and families.

The Network will build on the last two years’ experiences, the ongoing and popular program, and client feedback to expand services to a more significant number of clients. This project will work in partnership with the Tenderloin Arab Youth Community Center. The Network will be led by the Iman Network, a non-profit organization that supports the Bay Area Arab community in solving mental illnesses and addiction issues.

How funding would support this existing program?

This program will build on a 2-year ongoing project, which was extremely popular with clients and resulted in a waiting list of clients that we were unable to accommodate with the existing level of funding. This requested funding will stabilize the program and allow for its expansion in order to demonstrate its efficacy and secure the funding needed for the next five years.

If this program is not funded, extreme mental health disparities will escalate and lower quality of life will dominate, which increases the risk of generational poverty and social fracturing.

30. Hustlers Alternative Project

Description

The project will address the community’s drug dealing issues problem by opening options for dealers in tandem with other effective solutions. Approximately 1,200 new and lifelong drug dealers and fathers will participate in community projects. Participants will receive stipends to complete a 12-week program.

The program will apply existing communication, leadership, and creative skills, teach financial skills and professional development, and provide mental health therapy. The goal of the program is to get to the true reasons why each individual feels obligated to deals drugs and support and challenge them to be greater for themselves and the community.

How funding would support this existing program?

The existing program has been tethering from smaller city grants thus far while developing the curriculum and the partners to ensure the effectiveness of the organization goals. The community interests have classrooms and workshops without enough ample staff to take the needs to the next level. This funding will corral the community street hustlers’ commitment to a program like this.

Description

Support for new, resident-owned and -operated small businesses in the Tenderloin that offer affordable goods and services, hire and train residents, and provide community gathering spaces for residents, for example a Healthy Soul Food Restaurant with a community-oriented venue.

Funding may be used to support start-up and permitting process costs, among others, to provide the opportunity for locally owned business-owners to get off the ground. There has been only one proposal under this category, but this program could potentially support more businesses. The specific proposal is for an accessible, affordable, and healthy soul food restaurant in the Tenderloin community, where the venue will be community orientated, where low-income residents, families, and the local workforce will feel they can belong. The restaurant will celebrate Black food, music, and culture, but everyone is welcome.
