The plan for San Francisco's diverse and inclusive Tenderloin neighborhood.

The Tenderloin Community Action Plan is a neighborhood-driven collaboration between residents, community organizations, businesses, and City agencies. The Plan will identify current needs for the neighborhood's diverse culture and population and develop a collective vision for Tenderloin's future. It will also develop an action plan for the following priorities identified by the community:

-  Housing Access
-  Open Space
-  Health and Wellness
-  Transit and Mobility
-  Economic Opportunity and Small Business
-  Arts and Culture
-  Environmental Justice

The Tenderloin is a unique neighborhood with a range of perspectives with the highest density of children in the City, and high concentrations of communities of color, seniors, people living with disabilities, artists, community-based organizations and merchants. The neighborhood has long been a refuge for immigrants and the LGBTQ+ communities.

The Tenderloin has a long-standing history of activism and resiliency. The Uptown Historic District, the nation's first Transgender District, North of Market Special Use District, and the Hotel Conversion Ordinance are a few examples of community-based efforts that preserve and protect affordable housing and tenants and celebrate the neighborhood's diversity. Today, several community organizations and residents are continuing this tradition. Highlighting one of these achievements, the Tenderloin People's Congress engaged over 1,200 community members in a conversation envisioning the neighborhood's future in 2017, which resulted in the Vision 2020 Plan and sparked advocacy for the creation of the Tenderloin Community Action Plan.
